

The New York Public Library
Carl H. Pforzheimer Collection of Shelley and His Circle

Guide to the Lady Emilie B. Hornby manuscript material

1862-1864

Pforz Ms

Summary

Creator: Hornby, Emilie B., Lady, . 1868

Title: Lady Emilie B. Hornby manuscript material

Date: 1862-1864

Size: 2 items

Abstract: Emilie B. Hornby, wife of Sir Edmund Hornby (1825-1896), a colonial administrator and judge who had a house at Weybridge. George Meredith had lodged with her widowed mother at "The Limes," Weybridge, in 1849-1850; Hornby is said to have been Meredith's inspiration for the heroine in his Emilia in England (1864). -- 1 autograph letter signed : "Thursday" [?May-Sep 1862] : (P'ANA 0054) : begins, "Sir Edmund leaves in a few days. have you forgotten your promise ..."; mentions Peacock's Gryll Grange. Published as Letter A13 in Joukovsky's edition of Peacock's letters. -- 1 autograph letter signed : 30 Mar 1864 : (P'ANA 0055) : from "Bournalat, a mountain village in Asia Minor, about seven miles from Smyrna"; begins, "I can never forget people whom I like and admire ...".

Preferred citation: Lady Emilie B. Hornby manuscript material : 2 items, Carl H. Pforzheimer Collection of Shelley and His Circle, The New York Public Library

Creator History

Emilie B. Hornby, wife of Sir Edmund Hornby (1825-1896), a colonial administrator and judge who had a house at Weybridge. George Meredith had lodged with her widowed mother at "The Limes," Weybridge, in 1849-1850; Hornby is said to have been Meredith's inspiration for the heroine in his Emilia in England (1864).

Scope and Content Note

. To Thomas Love Peacock, satirical novelist and poet : 2 letters -- 1 autograph letter signed : "Thursday" [?May-Sep 1862] : (P'ANA 0054) : begins, "Sir Edmund leaves in a few days. have you forgotten your promise ..."; mentions Peacock's Gryll Grange. Published as Letter A13 in Joukovsky's edition of Peacock's letters. -- 1 autograph letter signed : 30 Mar 1864 : (P'ANA 0055) : from "Bournalat, a mountain village in Asia Minor, about seven miles from Smyrna"; begins, "I can never forget people whom I like and admire ...".