

The New York Public Library
Carl H. Pforzheimer Collection of Shelley and His Circle

Guide to the

Attend, ye purse-proud Tories, whilst I trace [manuscript poem]

about 1832?

Pforz Ms

Summary

Title: Attend, ye purse-proud Tories, whilst I trace [manuscript poem]

Date: about 1832?

Size: 7 pages (2 double sheets)

Abstract: Anonymous fair copy 211 line poem, apparently unpublished, attacking Wellington's Tories after their defeat by the Whigs at the Parliamentary Election of 1832, which was primarily fought over the pending Reform Bill; begins, "Attend, ye purse-proud Tories, whilst I trace / The Whigs' triumph and your dire disgrace; / I grant you fought to desperation, yet / You've learnt a lesson you will ne'er forget" The paper bears an armorial watermark and a countermark of "S EVANS CO / 1830."

Preferred citation: Attend, ye purse-proud Tories, whilst I trace [manuscript poem], Carl H. Pforzheimer Collection of Shelley and His Circle, The New York Public Library

Scope and Content Note

Anonymous fair copy 211 line poem, apparently unpublished, attacking Wellington's Tories after their defeat by the Whigs at the Parliamentary Election of 1832, which was primarily fought over the pending Reform Bill; begins, "Attend, ye purse-proud Tories, whilst I trace / The Whigs' triumph and your dire disgrace; / I grant you fought to desperation, yet / You've learnt a lesson you will ne'er forget" The paper bears an armorial watermark and a countermark of "S EVANS & CO / 1830."

Key Terms

Subjects

English poetry -- 19th century -- Manuscripts -- Poetry

Names

Great Britain. Parliament