

The New York Public Library
Carl H. Pforzheimer Collection of Shelley and His Circle

Guide to the

Sir Frederic George Kenyon manuscript material

1902-1907

Pforz Ms

Summary

Creator: Kenyon, Frederic G. (Frederic George), Sir, 1863-1952

Title: Sir Frederic George Kenyon manuscript material

Date: 1902-1907

Size: 2 items

Abstract: Sir Frederic George Kenyon, British paleographer, biblical and classical scholar, and director of the British Museum. &#xB7; To Charles Dealtry Locock, writer and editor : 2 items -- 1 autograph letter signed : 21 Jan 1902 : (S'ANA 0980) : on British Museum stationery; concerning a Shelley manuscript in the museum, presumably a fragment of Prometheus Unbound; begins, "I am very glad to hear that your literary labours and studies are not confined to the theory of billiards." -- 1 autograph letter signed : 26 Dec 1907 : (S'ANA 0981) : on stationery of the Department of Manuscripts, British Museum; relating to Locock's inquiry about some of Shelley's literary allusions, which Kenyon says "are much more likely to be to the classics"; begins, "I am sorry I missed you Tuesday through having gone out to lunch early."

Preferred citation: Sir Frederic George Kenyon manuscript material : 2 items, Carl H. Pforzheimer Collection of Shelley and His Circle, The New York Public Library

Creator History

Sir Frederic George Kenyon, British paleographer, biblical and classical scholar, and director of the British Museum.

Scope and Content Note

· To Charles Dealtry Locock, writer and editor : 2 items -- 1 autograph letter signed : 21 Jan 1902 : (S'ANA 0980) : on British Museum stationery; concerning a Shelley manuscript in the museum, presumably a fragment of Prometheus Unbound; begins, "I am very glad to hear that your literary labours and studies are not confined to the theory of billiards." -- 1 autograph letter signed : 26 Dec 1907 : (S'ANA 0981) : on stationery of the Department of Manuscripts, British Museum; relating to

Locock's inquiry about some of Shelley's literary allusions, which Kenyon says "are much more likely to be to the classics"; begins, "I am sorry I missed you Tuesday through having gone out to lunch early."