Abstract: Jonathan Ned Katz (1938 -) is an independent historian, author, LGBTQ rights advocate, teacher, and textile designer. His father, Bernard Katz (1901-1970), an artist and designer who worked in advertising, was an independent historian of African-American history and jazz music. Jonathan Katz's mother, Phyllis Brownstone Katz, was a magazine editor and co-founder of the Jane Street Community Garden. The Jonathan Ned Katz papers reflect his life and career as an historian, author, LGBTQ rights advocate, teacher, and textile designer. They most heavily document Katz's research and writings on LGBTQ history and activism, and encompass his personal life, family, friends, and the LGBTQ liberation movement. The collection also contains the papers of his parents, Bernard Katz and Phyllis Brownstone Katz.

Conditions Governing Access:

Creator History

Jonathan Ned Katz (1938 -), an author, playwright, historian, teacher, gay rights advocate, and textile designer, was born in New York City. His father, Bernard Katz (1902-1970), was an advertising executive and independent scholar, and his mother, Phyllis Brownstone Katz, a magazine editor. His grandfather on his mother's side, Abraham Brownstone, emigrated to Canada in 1888 at age fifteen from his native Bessarabia (Russia).

Raised in New York City in Greenwich Village at 81 Jane Street, Jonathan Katz graduated in 1956 from the High School of Music and Art. During his senior year, he directed a musical revue and variety show ("Going...Going...Gone") which was staged by members of the graduating class. After high school, Katz attended Antioch College (1956-1957), the College of the City of New York (1957-1960), and the New School (1961-1962), but never took an academic degree.

During the 1960s, Katz was employed in New York City as a free-lance textile designer at the Prince Studio (1960-1965), New Group, Inc. (1965-1970) and at Henry Glass, Inc. (1970-1972, 1976). In later years, he held positions in development and publications at Scholastic, Inc. (1982-1984), the Center for Constitutional Rights (1984-1986), and the American Civil Liberties Union (1989-1990).

Katz's writing career began in 1967 with the production of two documentary plays about fugitive slaves, Inquest at Christiana and The Dispute Over the Ownership of Anthony Burns. Both were broadcast over radio station WBAI-FM. He published two additional works in the field of Black studies: Black Woman: A Fictionalized Biography of Lucy Terry Prince (Pantheon, 1973), which he co-authored with his father; and Resistance at Christiana: The Fugitive Slave Rebellion, Christiana, Pennsylvania, 1851 (T.Y. Crowell, 1974).

A staunch advocate of gay rights, Katz became a founding member of the Gay Academic Union. In the 1970s and 1980s, he published a play (Coming Out! A Documentary Play About Gay Life and Liberation (Arno Press, 1975), and two ground-breaking books of historical research on gay history in the United States: Gay American History: Lesbians and Gay Men in the U.S.A. (T. Y. Crowell, 1976), and Gay/Lesbian Almanac: A New Documentary (Harper and Row, 1983). Both established Katz's reputation as one of America's leading authorities on homosexuality and LGBTQ history. Katz is also the author of The Invention of Heterosexuality (Dutton, 1995), Love Stories: Sex Between Men Before Homosexuality (University of Chicago Press, 2001), and The Daring Life and Dangerous Times of Eve Adams (Chicago Review Press, 2021). Katz created the website OutHistory.org in 2008.

In addition to his major publications, Katz has contributed papers at conferences and published articles, reviews and essays on the subject of homosexuality, heterosexuality, and LGBTQ issues. In 1975, he was general editor of the Arno Press-New York Times reprint series on homosexuality. He has also been a guest lecturer on gay American history at several colleges and universities, including Yale, Princeton, and the University of Chicago; and has taught courses on gay and lesbian history at New York University and at the New School for Social Research (1991).

Katz received several grants from philanthropic foundations, including the New York State Council on the Arts; the Louis M. Rabinowitz Foundation; and the Pennsylvania Humanities Council for the purpose of producing, in collaboration with the Philadelphia Lesbian and Gay Task Force, an educational documentary entitled Words which explored the changing terminology and concepts in the field of gay and lesbian history.

Bernard Katz (1902-1970), an advertising art director and independent scholar, was raised in the Bensonhurst section of Brooklyn. During one of his summer vacations from school he was employed as copy boy in the sports department of the New York Sun. At age eighteen, he edited and published (in Bensonhurst) a monthly scandal sheet entitled "Ye Town Gossip," which, although ephemeral, succeeded in attracting at least one literary contribution (a novelette) from the novelist Oscar Schisgal.

Bernard Katz entered the advertising field as an artist and graphic designer. Following employment as a production manager at Namm's, and as an art director at Abraham and Straus, both leading department stores in New York City, Bernard Katz became advertising and promotion director of Hearn's, a department store, in 1932. He left in 1950 to become art director of Fairfax, Inc., an advertising agency, where he remained until his retirement in 1968.

Bernard Katz had a lifelong interest in African-American history and music. He compiled The Social Implications of Early Negro Music in the United States (Arno Press, 1969); and with his son, Jonathan Ned Katz, he co-authored Black Woman: A Fictionalized Biography of Lucy Terry Prince (Pantheon, 1973). He accumulated a large collection of sound recordings of American jazz and was an acknowledged authority on the subject. Bernard Katz served as script-writer and impresario for a series of jazz concerts held at Town Hall in New York City in the late 1940s. He was married to Phyllis Brownstone Katz, an editor of Parents magazine who co-founded the Jane Street Community Garden. Both of their sons became noted historians: Jonathan's brother, William Loren Katz, specialized in Black history.

Custodial History

Jonathan Ned Katz donated the first portion of his papers in 1993. He made additional donations in 1995, 1997, 2004, 2006, and 2021. In 1988, the Library received from the International Gay Information Center, Inc. some personal papers (2.8 linear ft.) of Mr. Katz. These papers, which were formerly part of the International Gay Information Center Archives, were removed from that collection and integrated into the Jonathan Ned Katz Papers. The Bernard Katz papers were initially separated from the Jonathan Ned Katz papers in 1993, but the collections were reunited in 2022.

Scope and Content Note

The Jonathan Ned Katz papers, dating from 1867 to 2021 (bulk dates: 1950s to 2021), reflect his life and career as an historian, author, LGBTQ rights advocate, teacher, and textile designer. The collection most heavily documents Katz's research and writings on LGBTQ history and activism. It also encompasses his personal life, family, friends, and the LGBTQ liberation movement.

The papers include research files, notes, and drafts of Katz's published books; essays; articles; lectures; reviews; diaries; and other writings. They also hold personal and professional correspondence; topical files; clippings; photographs; scrapbooks; and textile designs. Also present are sound and video recordings, which include interviews and oral histories with key figures in the LGBTQ liberation movement, such as historian and activist Allan Bérubé, activists Barbara Gittings and Tony Segura, and others (see Series IX).

The collection also holds the papers of Katz's father, Bernard Katz, and mother, Phyllis Brownstone Katz. Their lives and careers are revealed through writings, letters, work files, advertising designs, family papers, photographs, and scrapbooks. These files include documentation of Bernard Katz's production of concerts of African-American music at Town Hall; and of the founding and early history of the Jane Street Community Garden.

Series X: Additions holds content similar to those in Series I-VIII. For further details, see the scope and content notes for each series.

Container List

Series I: Correspondence 1947-2003 (26 boxes 10.21 linear feet)

This series has two subseries, I.A. General Correspondence and I.B. Family Correspondence. The former comprises the bulk of the series and documents primarily Katz's research on gay history.

Series I.A: General Correspondence 1960s-2003 (25 boxes 10.0 linear feet)

The bulk of this correspondence is with academicians; scholars; historians; gay men; lesbians; activists in the LGBTQ liberation movement; publishers, homophile groups; readers of Katz's books; librarians and archivists; and friends and acquaintances. Much of the correspondence relates to Katz's historical writings on gay America.

Correspondents include: The Advocate, Richard Amory, Arno Press, Alan Bell, Eric Bentley, Allan Bérubé, Louis Crompton, John D'Emilio, Martin Duberman, Jeannette Howard Foster, Stephen W. Foster, David Gibson, Barbara Gittings, Edward F. Grier, Foster Gunnison (Institute of Social Ethics), Homosexual Information Center (California), Bert Hansen, Walter Harding, Haworth Press, Henry ("Harry") Hay, the Kinsey Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University, Christopher Isherwood (see also the Permissions folder in box 27), Karla Jay, James L. Kepner, Jr., Morris Kight, the Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund, Michael Lynch, David McReynolds (see also the Permissions folder in box 27), Nicholas Patricca, Ned Rorem, Joan Raines, Judith Schwarz, Lawrence Senelick, Ann Snitow, Jim Steakley, Carol Vance, Bruce Voeller, Jeffrey Weeks, Scott Wirth, and Allen Young.

The Harry Hay and James L. Kepner, Jr. files contain anecdotal details relating to their personal lives and to their participation in the struggle for gay rights, including the founding of the original Mattachine Society in California.

This series includes correspondence between Jonathan Ned Katz and his mother, Phyllis Brownstone Katz, his brother William Loren Katz, and others. Included are a few letters written by Jonathan Ned Katz to his mother, father and family during his childhood and young adulthood. There are also a few estate papers of Abraham Brownstone (the father of Phyllis Brownstone Katz), including a typescript entitled "A Young Boy's Experiences in Bessarabia."

Series II: Topical Files 1982-2009 (13 boxes 4.83 linear feet)

This series holds correspondence, notes, minutes, and memoranda, relating to Katz's professional interests and activities as gay activist and historian of gay history. Included are papers relative to a proposal to establish an Institute for the Study of Sex in Society to serve as a focal point for research on sexuality from a social, historical and public policy perspective.

Files related to exhibits that Katz organized or was involved with include "Gay and Lesbian History, 1998"; "100 Years of the Homosexual Rights Movement", Berlin and "The Pink and the Blue: Lesbian and Gay Life at Yale and in Connecticut, 1642-2004." The files hold research materials, photographs, correspondence and programs.

The grant files document Katz's requests for financial aid from philanthropic and other institutions to support the research and writing of his historical documentaries, including his book on gay and lesbian history; a proposed documentary play based upon the life and writings of Walt Whitman; a book on the political economy of sex; a study of the history and origins of the state sodomy laws; and a book-length version of his article "The Invention of Heterosexuality" (Socialist Review, February 1990).

Series III: Writings 1982-1990 (48 boxes 17.5 linear feet)

The writings consist of corrected typescript drafts, page proofs, and galleys of the following works: Coming Out! A Documentary Play about Gay Life and Liberation (Arno Press, 1975); Gay American History: Lesbians and Gay Men in the U.S.A. (T. Y. Crowell, 1976); Gay/Lesbian Almanac: A New Documentary (Harper and Row, 1983); and an incomplete typescript of Resistance at Christiana: The Fugitive Slave Rebellion, Christiana, Pennsylvania, 1851 (T. Y. Crowell, 1974). The files also include multiple drafts of The Invention of Heterosexuality (Dutton, 1995). Following the typescripts of each work are topical files of correspondence (with publishers and others); permissions; promotion and publicity materials; copies of published reviews; and other papers.

Also present are typescripts of Katz's other writings, including are also, such as essays, lectures, and reviews on various subjects including American painting, American film, fugitive slaves, Marxism, sodomy in colonial America, and transgender people.

Later additions include material concerning the book Love Stories: Sex Between Men Before Homosexuality (University of Chicago Press, 2001) and an unpublished book, Showing Our Faces, which was re-imagined as a calendar.

Research files contain photocopies of scholarly articles, along with correspondence pertaining to the article.

Series IV: Papers as Teacher of Gay History 1984-2003 (6 boxes 2.29 linear feet)

This series contains papers relating to academic courses on sexuality and heterosexuality taught by Katz at the Eugene Lang College of the New School for Social Research and at New York University. Included are administrative papers, course outlines, evaluations of students' classroom performance, students' papers corrected and graded, and a few photocopies of texts of reading assignments. Included also is a press release announcing a course on gay American history to be given by Mr. Katz in fulfillment of a writer-in-residence grant awarded by the New York State Council on the Arts.

Katz and Lisa Duggan taught a 12-session course called "Lesbian and Gay American History", 1984; the material does not reflect where the course took place. The Yale class was taught in 2003.

Series V: Research Notes and Papers 1934-1974 (18 boxes 6.88 linear feet)

This series consists of interview transcripts and a topical file of Mr. Katz's notes and papers relating to his research on gay and lesbian history. The bulk of the files consists of photocopies of source materials from various repositories accumulated by Katz during the course of his research. Some files contain handwritten notes, drafts of articles, and correspondence with scholars, historians, librarians, and archivists. Included are photocopies of papers relating to Henry Gerber, Harry Hay, Jim Kepner. The topics are listed in the container list below.

The papers relating to Henry Gerber, who was a founder of the Chicago Society for Human Rights, consist of photocopies of Gerber's correspondence (1940-1957), mainly to Manuel Boyfrank; and of photocopies of his writings on homosexuality, some of which were published in Chanticleer magazine (1934).

The papers relating to Harry Hay consist of a typed typescript copy of an interview conducted by Katz on March 31, 1974; and documents (some original) with accompanying annotations by Hay relating to the Mattachine Society of California and to Hay's personal career as a gay activist.

The papers relating to Jim Kepner consist of photocopies of Kepner's letters to Wally Jordan (1943 to 1944).

The interview transcripts in this series are based on the sound recordings found in Series IX.

Additional research notes may be found in Series II, III, and X.

b. 61-63 t. 1-20 Series VIII: Textile Designs 1960-1990s (3 boxes, 20 tubes 8.58 linear feet)

This series documents Katz's work as a freelance textile designer through design samples on cloth and paper, including a cloth flag used in the 1972 production of the play Coming Out!. Many of the designs date from Katz's employment at New Group, Inc. (1965-1970)

Series IX: Sound and Video Recordings 1930s-2017

The sound recordings consist of interviews, lectures, radio programs, and conference recordings.

The interviews are in two sections: Katz's research interviews with gay artists and figures in the LGBTQ liberation movement; and interviews with Katz, usually on radio talk shows. Katz's interview subjects include independent scholar and activist Allan Bérubé; Barbara Gittings, organizer of the New York chapter of the Daughters of Bilitis; activist Harry Hay; the writer Christopher Isherwood; gay rights pioneers Morris Kight and W. Dorr Legg; Tony Segura, a founder of the homophile movement; composer/music critic Virgil Thomson; activist and author Randy Wicker; and the Reverend Robert Carter II, a gay Black clergyman. Also present are interviews with Ruth Peter Worth (a Jewish lesbian who escaped from Nazi Germany), conducted by Esther Newton. Katz carried out most of these interviews in the mid-1970s. Most of the interviews with Katz date from 1976 to 1977, when he was promoting Gay American History.

The lectures (some of which are recordings of classes taught by Katz at the School for Marxist Studies) discuss gay history and date mainly from 1974 to 1977. They also include a lecture titled "Toward a Marxist Theoretical Analysis of Homosexuality."

Other sound recordings include a Gay Activists Alliance news conference regarding a near-riot over gay issues at a New York City Council meeting in 1973; a Katz-hosted radio program on gay history (for WBAI); the memorial service for Katz's mother, Phyllis; Remembering Stonewall, a radio program by Michael Scherker; and a recording by the composer Jane Staab of songs she co-wrote with Katz for a musical.

The video recordings include Katz's home film production of Tom Sawyer he made at age 13; family home movies in New York and other cities dating from the 1950s; a New York City May Day parade in the 1930s; and a performance at Music and Art High School, presumably from Katz's teen years.

Some audio and video recordings are unavailable for use pending preservation transfer.

Series X: Additions 1867-2021 (48 boxes 20.71 linear feet) (489 computer files 2.9 gigabytes)

This series contains papers donated by Jonathan Katz in 2021. They include his historical research files on LGBTQ history; files regarding the Katz-edited OutHistory.org website; diaries, calendars, and datebooks; art by Katz and Jack Dowling; samples of gay imagery in popular culture and advertising; and ten sets of subject files.

The historical research files include subject files; Katz-annotated historical writings; photographs and imagery of LGBTQ people through history; Katz's notes and drafts for The Daring Life and Dangerous Times of Eve Adams (these files also contain a complete, Katz-annotated copy of Adams' book Lesbian Love); research on John Fisk, Thomas Boulton, and Frederick Park (also in the subject files, set 9); and images for Love Stories: Sex Between Men Before Homosexuality (more files regarding that book are in subject files set 3; and under Woodcock, Charles Burger, in set 9).

The OutHistory files document the site's origins and development. They include correspondence with the Center for Lesbian and Gay Studies (the site's original host and funder); web designers and editors; content drafts and samples; and records of planning meetings and funding discussions.

The ten subject files contain material similar to those held in other series. These include correspondence with other researchers responding to or commenting on their work; writings, including Katz's columns for The Advocate in set 6, other essays in set 8, and poetry in set 2; project and book proposals (throughout the subject files); lectures and talks (see set 4, and throughout the subject files); files on The Invention of Heterosexuality (also called Theory of Sexuality), including reviews, drafts in article form, and publishing information (sets 2, 4, 7, and 8); files regarding Gay American History (sets 4, 5, 7, and throughout the series); correspondence regarding Freedom of Information requests for Jonathan and Bernard Katz's FBI files (sets 1, 4, and 10); files regarding Allan Bérubé (set 5, and see also the interview in Series IX); letters (set 5); Katz's work regarding aging in the LGBTQ community and his work with Services and Advocacy for Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender Elders (SAGE, see sets 5 and 6); notes, script drafts, and correspondence regarding the documentary film Words (set 8); and Katz's personal files, including records of his dating life (set 7) and his memoirs in various forms (sets 1, 3, 6, 7, and 8).

These additions came to the library as several sets of files, most of which were in distinct alphabetical sections. Material not part of an alphabetical run are arranged first in this series, followed by 10 file sets, each arranged alphabetically.

Access to Katz's diaries is restricted until his death. Access to his school transcripts is restricted until 2031.

Series XI: Bernard Katz and Phyllis Brownstone Katz Papers 1896-1985 (13 boxes 4.46 linear feet)

The Bernard Katz papers document his research interests, advertising career, and family through notes, writings, letters, photographs, scrapbooks, drawings, graphic designs, advertising designs, clippings, a datebook, an address book, and sound recordings.

Bernard Katz's writings comprise the bulk of the series. They consist of notes and essay manuscripts on such topics as jazz and other Black music; Black regiments in the Spanish Civil war; the works of William Shakespeare; the pre-American Revolution HMS Gaspee affair; and the social history of the American colonies. Katz also wrote autobiographical essays, short fiction, plays, and poetry.

Katz's drawings, graphic designs, and advertisements date from the 1930s to the 1960s. Some were done for Hearn's Department Store.

Katz's production of jazz and blues concerts at Town Hall are covered in files for the Mezz Mezzrow event, the Bessie Smith tribute ("Blues for Bessie"), and "A Night in New Orleans." The series also holds photographs of clarinetist Bob Wilber and bassists Pops Foster, and Charles Traeger.

Family papers, photographs, and scrapbooks date from the late 19th century onward and document both Katz's family and the family of his wife, Phyllis Brownstone Katz. Other contents include a chronology of Katz's activities; certificates and awards; letters from colleagues, family, and friends

The papers of Phyllis Brownstone Katz pertain mainly to her co-founding and leadership of the Jane Street Community Garden in the early-1970s. They also hold condolence letters on the death of Bernard Katz, and papers regarding her editorial work at Parents magazine.

Audio recordings are unavailable for use pending preservation transfer.
