

The New York Public Library
Manuscripts and Archives Division

Guide to the

Newton D. Baker letters to Thomas J. Howells

1914-1937

MssCol 183

Summary

Creator: Baker, Newton Diehl, 1871-1937

Title: Newton D. Baker letters to Thomas J. Howells

Date: 1914-1937

Size: .3 linear feet (1 box)

Source: Purchase, Sweet, Forest G., 1944

Abstract: Newton Diehl Baker (1871-1937) was an American lawyer, political leader and United States Secretary of War during World War I. Collection consists of letters from Baker to Thomas J. Howells of Pittsburgh, Pa., written from Cleveland, Ohio, during Baker's tenure as mayor, from Washington, D.C., while Baker was Secretary of War, and later at Cleveland where Baker practiced law. Letters relate to Baker's life and responsibilities in Cleveland, and to national and international politics including comments on relations between the United States and Mexico, World War I problems, the Training Camp Activities Commission of which Baker was appointed a member, conscientious objectors, the raising of bridges in Pittsburgh, transportation of soldiers home from France, President Wilson's health, the League of Nations, and business and personal affairs.

Physical Location: MssCol 183

Alternative Form Available: Transcripts of most letters available

Preferred citation: Newton D. Baker letters to Thomas J. Howells, Manuscripts and Archives Division, The New York Public Library

Creator History

Newton Diehl Baker (1871-1937) was an American lawyer, political leader and United States Secretary of War during World War I.

Scope and Content Note

Collection consists of letters from Baker to Thomas J. Howells of Pittsburgh, Pa., written from Cleveland, Ohio, during Baker's tenure as mayor, from Washington, D.C., while Baker was Secretary of War, and later at Cleveland where Baker practiced law. Letters relate to Baker's life and responsibilities in Cleveland, and to national and international politics including comments on relations between the United States and Mexico, World War I problems, the Training Camp Activities Commission of which Baker was appointed a member, conscientious objectors, the raising of bridges in Pittsburgh, transportation of soldiers home from France, President Wilson's health, the League of Nations, and business and personal affairs.

Key Terms

Subjects

Bridges -- Pennsylvania -- Pittsburgh
Conscientious objection -- United States
International organization
International relations
Practice of law -- Ohio -- Cleveland
Presidents -- United States -- Health
World War, 1914-1918 -- Conscientious objectors
World War, 1914-1918 -- Participation, American
World War, 1914-1918 -- Transportation

Geographic Names

Cleveland (Ohio) -- Politics and government
United States -- Foreign relations -- Mexico
United States -- Politics and government -- 1913-1921

Occupations

Lawyers
Politicians

Names

Baker, Newton Diehl, 1871-1937
Howells, Thomas J.
Wilson, Woodrow, 1856-1924
League of Nations
United States. War Dept. Training Camp Activities Commission