Summary

Title: Schwimmer-Lloyd Collection, 1852-1994 (bulk 1912-1983)

Source: The bulk of the collection was donated in 1944 by Rosika Schwimmer and Lola Maverick Lloyd, however numerous additional accessions from the Lloyd family, Franciska Schwimmer and Edith Wynner were contributed between 1944 and 1991.

Abstract: The collection consists chiefly of correspondence and papers of Rosika Schwimmer (1877-1948), Lola Maverick Lloyd (1875-1944) and their associates relating to their work for the European and American feminist movements, woman suffrage, World War I mediation efforts, international peace and world government.

The papers of Rosika Schwimmer document her career as a suffragist, feminist, pacifist, and diplomat. Included are materials emanating from her work for the Hungarian Feminist Association, Ford Peace Expedition and Neutral Conference for Continual Mediation. Also included are documents related to her role as Hungarian Minister to Switzerland, as co-founder of the Campaign for World Government, and those documenting her struggle to gain U.S. citizenship.

The papers of Lola Maverick Lloyd include those documenting her work with the Woman's Peace Party, Hague Congress of Women, National Woman's Party, People's Council, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, Women's Equality Campaign, and Women's Consultative Committee.

While the collection chiefly comprises Schwimmer's and Lloyd's papers, the papers of other individuals and organizations have been donated for inclusion in the collection. Among them are the papers of Franciska Schwimmer, Lola Maverick Lloyd's children (William Bross Lloyd, Jr., Mary Maverick Lloyd, Georgia Lloyd, and Jessie Lloyd O'Connor), Frieda Langer Lazarus, Leopold & Berta Katscher, Kitty Marion, Edith Wynner, and several members of the Henry Ford Peace Expedition, 1915-1916. Organizational papers include those of the Campaign for World Government and the Griffin-O'Day Bill Committee.

Correspondents include hundreds of notable Americans and Europeans such as Jane Addams, Anita Augspurg, Emily G. Balch, Mary R. Beard, Carrie Chapman Catt, Albert Einstein, Lida Gustava Heymann, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., Aletta Jacobs, Alice Paul, Anna Howard Shaw, Baroness Bertha von Suttner, and Count Michael Karolyi.

Access: Advance notice required. Researchers must apply for admission to the Manuscripts and Archives Division. Artifacts within the collection are available only by advance permission of the Curator of Manuscripts.

Alternate formats: Portions of the collection are available on microfilm.

Provenance / Processing note

In 1944, Rosika Schwimmer and Lola Maverick Lloyd donated their papers to The New York Public Library and encouraged their friends, professional associates and family members to follow suit.

Close to a decade prior, Schwimmer, who was particularly concerned about documenting feminist and pacifist history, had attempted to form a World Center for Women's Archives with the historian Mary Ritter Beard. The first project of its kind, the WCWA's stated mission was to accumulate the records of prominent women in the fields of suffrage, reproductive rights, anti-war activism and other forms of progressive endeavor. The project ultimately failed due to lack of funding, however, several of the smaller collections within the Schwimmer-Lloyd Collection are believed to result from the WCWA's collecting efforts.

The donated materials were arranged together into 22 series of the larger "Schwimmer-Lloyd Collection" and were administered over by Schwimmer's personal secretary and friend, Edith Wynner, until the time of her retirement in the early 1990s. Wynner continued to collect topical materials following the deaths of Schwimmer and Lloyd, while often attributing the papers to them. Whenever possible, these post-mortem accretions have been separated to Wynner's papers, or moved to the Schwimmer-Lloyd Vertical File.

In addition, numerous accessions of personal papers were added to the collection over the period between 1944 and 1993, the bulk of which were the records of the Campaign for World Government and related world government movements, and the papers of Lola Maverick Lloyd's equally politically and socially active children.

The Schwimmer-Lloyd Collection was officially opened for research in 1974.

Beginning in 2005, much of the Schwimmer-Lloyd material was re-evaluated and reprocessed as separate collections. The papers of Schwimmer and Lloyd and of other individuals and organizations became discrete collections bearing the names of their creators. Each of these collections remain under the administrative aegis of the larger Schwimmer-Lloyd Collection.

VI. SUBJECT FILES

A. VERTICAL FILES

Composed of printed matter and other materials, these topical files were previously arranged with Schwimmer's personal papers. In 2008 they were separated and arranged together as a subject file on individuals and themes of interest to Schwimmer.

Also included are printed materials collected by Edith Wynner, Georgia Lloyd and the Campaign for World Government staff. This section of materials is currently closed until processed.

Researchers may note gaps in box numbering.

B. MORGUE FILES

The morgue files consist of newspaper clippings collected by Rosika Schwimmer and supplemented by Edith Wynnner on individuals and topics of personal interest to them. The files are divided into the following categories: Individuals, Nations, Women, Topics, Oversized and Addenda.

Accessible through the Schwimmer-Lloyd card catalog in the Manuscripts & Archives reading room, these files are cataloged under the themes of individual name, nation, women, and special topics.

These files are available both on microfilm and in their original. Researchers are advised, however, that photocopy requests will not be accepted for the original materials, and are directed to print copies from the microfilm.

INDIVIDUALS: Boxes N1-128

NATIONS: Boxes N129-180

WOMEN: Boxes N181-199

TOPICS: Boxes N200-311

OVERSIZED: Boxes N312-360

SUPPLEMENT / ADDENDA: Boxes N361-374

MORGUE FILES: INDIVIDUALS

VII. SCHWIMMER-LLOYD LIBRARY

The Schwimmer-Lloyd Library consists of books, periodicals and pamphlets having belonged to Rosika and Franciska Schwimmer, Lola Maverick Lloyd, and Edith Wynner.

BOOKS

Accessible by author through the Schwimmer-Lloyd card catalog available in the Manuscripts & Archives reading room, most of the books may also be found through the NYPL catalog. An ongoing cataloging project continues to add these titles, which can be found by searching under the keyword "Schwimmer-Lloyd Collection."

PAMPHLET VOLUMES

Many of the pamphlets in the collection were made into "pamphlet volumes" consisting of several pamphlets bound together. Each of these pamphlets were individually cataloged, however, and can be found in the NYPL catalog.

UNCATALOGED PAMPHLETS ON WORLD GOVERNMENT AND PEACE
