

The New York Public Library
Manuscripts and Archives Division

Guide to the

Sophie Tucker autobiographical writings

MssCol 3042

Summary

Creator: Tucker, Sophie, 1884-1966

Title: Sophie Tucker autobiographical writings

Size: .5 linear feet (2 boxes)

Abstract: Sophie Tucker (1884-1966) was a Russian-born popular American entertainer. She gained fame as a performer in vaudeville and burlesque in the World War I era, and continued her career for many years in nightclubs, films, radio and television. The collection consists of Sophie Tucker's manuscript and typewritten drafts and notes, used as the basis for her published autobiography "Some of these Days" (Garden City, N.Y.: Doubleday, Doran, and Company, 1945). The text of the book differs considerably from the drafts.

Physical Location: *ZL-487

Alternative Form Available: Entire collection available on microfilm; New York Public Library; *ZL-487

Preferred citation: Sophie Tucker autobiographical writings, Manuscripts and Archives Division, The New York Public Library

Creator History

Sophie Tucker (1884-1966) was a Russian-born popular American entertainer. She gained fame as a performer in vaudeville and burlesque in the World War I era, and continued her career for many years in nightclubs, films, radio and television.

Scope and Content Note

The collection consists of Sophie Tucker's manuscript and typewritten drafts and notes, used as the basis for her published autobiography "Some of these Days" (Garden City, N.Y.: Doubleday, Doran, and Company, 1945). The text of the book differs considerably from the drafts.

Key Terms

Subjects

Entertainers -- United States

Singers -- United States

Genre/Physical Characteristic

Manuscripts for publication

Memoirs

Names

Tucker, Sophie, 1884-1966