Biographical Note

Ted Royal was born in Skedee, Oklahoma on September 6, 1904. He spent several years as a pianist, conductor and arranger at various venues in the central and southern states. He worked as an accompanist for silent movies at the Queen Theatre in Houston and as a pianist on the vaudeville circuit. He also worked as an arranger for Wayne King, Ted Weems and NBC in Chicago.

Royal arrived in New York City in the fall of 1935 and soon found work as an arranger for Isham Jones, Al Katz and Billy Rose. He also had his own radio program, "The Pompeian Hour" with Jerry Cooper and Donald Novis. Later, he worked as an arranger for the bandleader Paul Whiteman and for the Radio City Music Hall from 1943-1949.

Ted Royal's first Broadway credit was for additional arrangements for DuBarry Was a Lady (1939), which lead to orchestration assignments on other Cole Porter shows, such as Let's Face It (1941), Something for the Boys (1943), Mexican Hayride (1944) and Seven Lively Arts (1944). Other musicals Royal orchestrated include Leonard Bernstein's On the Town (1944), Irving Berlin's Annie Get Your Gun (1946), Harold Arlen's House of Flowers (1954), Frank Loesser's Where's Charley? (1948) and Guys and Dolls (1950), and Lerner and Loewe's Brigadoon (1947) and Paint Your Wagon (1951).

Royal studied with Joseph Schillinger from 1939-1943 and taught a course at Julliard in Commercial Arranging from 1945-1947. Royal also wrote unproduced musicals, songs and other compositions, including the music for the documentary When Comedy Was King (1960). Ted Royal died in 1981.

Scope and Content Note

This collection contains scores, writings and productions files from 1892 through 1975, though the bulk of the collection is from the 1930s through the 1950s. The strengths of this collection are the parts for Royal's arrangements of well-known and obscure songs and his own compositions, many of which were not published. The collection also includes writings on music theory and arranging by Royal and correspondence courses he subscribed to, most notably by Joseph Schillinger, with whom Royal studied. Of special interest is sheet music for several songs from Paint Your Wagon, (1951) which were cut prior to its Broadway opening. This is a collection of professional materials and its scope does not extend to personal materials.

Organization

The collection is organized into 3 series. They are:
