

The New York Public Library
Billy Rose Theatre Division

Guide to the

Townsend Walsh collection of visual materials

1897-1917 and n.d

*T-Vim 2014-045

Summary

Creator: Walsh, Townsend

Title: Townsend Walsh collection of visual materials

Date: 1897-1917 and n.d

Size: 6 items, 36 x 51 cm and smaller; 6 items, 36 x 51 cm and smaller

Abstract: Townsend Walsh (1872-1941), American theater press agent, business manager, drama critic, playwright and actor, was a collector of theatrical and circus memorabilia. Consists of two pencil portraits of Townsend Walsh; one portrait in watercolor and ink of Walsh in the role of Darby O'Hara in his play, The Boys of Kilkenny (1897); one handwritten poem "To the Players;" one small menu card showing a painted face and the words "Advocate" and "Townsend Walsh;" and three pieces of ephemera: some leaves, a menu and a card for Sir Frederick Pollock all pasted on one piece of cardboard, perhaps a souvenir from a dinner.

Physical Location: *T-Vim 2014-045

Preferred citation: Townsend Walsh collection of visual materials, Billy Rose Theatre Division, The New York Public Library

Creator History

Townsend Walsh (1872-1941), American theater press agent, business manager, drama critic, playwright and actor, was a collector of theatrical and circus memorabilia.

Scope and Content Note

Consists of two pencil portraits of Townsend Walsh; one portrait in watercolor and ink of Walsh in the role of Darby O'Hara in his play, The Boys of Kilkenny (1897); one handwritten poem "To the Players;" one small menu card showing a painted face and the words "Advocate" and "Townsend Walsh;" and three pieces of ephemera: some leaves, a menu and a card for Sir Frederick Pollock all pasted on one piece of cardboard, perhaps a souvenir from a dinner.

Key Terms

Subjects

Theater -- United States

Names

Walsh, Townsend

Walsh, Townsend. Boys of Kilkenny