

The New York Public Library
Manuscripts and Archives Division

Guide to the

Maurice Francis Egan diary

1914-1915

MssCol 907

Summary

Creator: Egan, Maurice Francis, 1852-1924

Title: Maurice Francis Egan diary

Date: 1914-1915

Size: .15 linear feet (1 v.); 1 microfilm reel

Source: Purchase, Harris, Francena, 1977

Abstract: Maurice Francis Egan (1852-1924) was an American author and diplomat. He published novels and poetry and became a regular contributor to contemporary magazines. He taught English at Notre Dame University and later at Catholic University. President Theodore Roosevelt appointed Egan to the post of minister to Denmark in 1907. Diary, Sept. 2, 1914-June 7, 1915, records the events of the first nine months of World War I when Egan served as minister to Denmark. Topics include the war, propoganda, commerce, international welfare organizations, and U.S. attitude toward the war.

Access: Advance notice required.

Alternative Form Available: Diary, 1914-1915, available on microfilm; New York Public Library

Preferred citation: Maurice Francis Egan diary, Manuscripts and Archives Division, The New York Public Library

Creator History

Maurice Francis Egan (1852-1924) was an American author and diplomat. He published novels and poetry and became a regular contributor to contemporary magazines. He taught English at Notre Dame University and later at Catholic University. President Theodore Roosevelt appointed Egan to the post of minister to Denmark in 1907.

Scope and Content Note

Diary, Sept. 2, 1914-June 7, 1915, records the events of the first nine months of World War I when

Egan served as minister to Denmark. Topics include the war, propaganda, commerce, international welfare organizations, and U.S. attitude toward the war.

Key Terms

Subjects

Commerce

International agencies

World War, 1914-1918 -- Diplomatic history

World War, 1914-1918 -- Propaganda

Genre/Physical Characteristic

Diaries

Occupations

Diplomats

Geographic Names

United States -- Foreign relations -- 1913-1921

Names

Egan, Maurice Francis, 1852-1924