memoranda and reports on policy (1922-35); auditor's reports (1922-41); lists of appropriations and loans (1924-41); and application files for each individual or organization requesting assistance. (The Fund's published reports on its activities can be found in the General Research Division of the N.Y.P.L.)

The grant and loan application files account for 70% of the collection. These files contain the correspondence of the applicant with the Fund and often a variety of supporting materials such as reports, memoranda, publications, financial records, leaflets, as well as comments by Fund officials regarding the application. The application files are divided into two basic series, Applications Accepted and Applications Refused. Each series is further divided into four time periods: 1922-27; 1928-33; 1934-38; 1939-41. The files of Applications Refused are arranged alphabetically by the name of the applicant for each of the four time periods. In the Applications Accepted series, the files for each time period (except 1934-38) are separated into two subseries, Gifts and Loans, each with its own alphabetical arrangement.

Researchers should note the following idiosyncrasies of this collection:
1. There are several mistakes in alphabetization of files which have not been altered in order to preserve the original numbering of the files.
2. Correspondence regarding loans which were eventually cancelled can often be found in the subseries Gifts.
3. The chronological periods into which files are divided indicate the years during which an appropriation was made or a loan repaid or cancelled. In many cases the correspondence in the files extends beyond the limits of the period indicated.
4. Obsolete volume and file numbers have not been removed from the documents. Please refer to current box and file listings.
5. Reports from grantees which were too lengthy to be included in the application files can be found at the end of the Applications Approved series.
