LILLIAN EVERTS PAPERS

BIOGRAPHY / SCOPE AND CONTENT

Lillian Everts (1898 - 1960), whose real name was Lillian Epstein Levine, was a New York poet and writer. She studied under Robert Frost and Professor Robert Hillyer. Everts, whose work appeared in numerous publications, served as conductor of the poetry workshop at the New York Public Library. Among her published works are: Lost Edition, 1948, In Time of Change, 1953 and Journey to the Future, 1955.

The papers of Lillian Everts are divided in three parts: general correspondence, letters received and misc. papers.

The general correspondence, incoming/outgoing, is in chronological order and alphabetical order within the year. The correspondence, 1935 - 1952, is with other poets, editors, publishers, writers' organizations and friends. Among prominent correspondents are: Florence Hamilton, Vivian Laramore, Sara Sandt, Helen Cartier and Blanch Burch. Copies of outgoing letters are on very acidic paper which is deteriorating rapidly.

The letters received, which are xerox copies, cover the years 1952 - 1956. Correspondence is in rough alphabetical order.

The misc. papers, 1933 - 1952, consist of xerox copies of writings by Everts and others, articles about Everts and some correspondence.
