Description Biographical Sketch

Adrian Hoffman Joline, (1850-1912) lawyer, author and autograph collector, was born to Charles O. and Mary Hoffman Joline in Sing, Sing, New York. He attended Mt. Pleasant Academy; was graduated from Princeton in 1870, and from Columbia Law School in 1872. He was admitted to the Bar in May of 1872. Joline married Mary E., daughter of Francis Larkin in 1876. He was a member of the law firm Butler, Stillman, and Hubbard from 1881 to 1896, and later in 1905, became a partner in the firm Joline, Larkin, and Rathbone. Among the several books he wrote, Meditations of an Autograph Collector, 1902.

Scope and Content

The collection consists primarily of a twenty one volume unpublished dictionary entitled, Dictionary of American Political Biography, in manuscript form and apparently in Joline's hand; miscellaneous letters to and from Joline to W.R. Benjamin, c. 1894-1912, chiefly discussing professional interests. Also included in the collection is one of Joline's published works entitled, Meditations of an Autograph Collector, (1902)
