Description Issac P. Langworthy, 1806-1888, was a Congregational clergyman active for most of his life in Chelsea, Massachusetts. He was born in North Stonington, Connecticut and was educated at Phillips Academy, Harvard Medical School and Yale University. After his ordination in 1841 he worked as a minister in a Chelsea Congregational church, a corresponding secretary of the American Congregational Union and a member of the American Congregational Association of Boston, Mass. He was married to Sarah Williams Langworthy, the daughter of Cyrus Williams, and the father of several children, including Frank Langworthy. An honorary degree, Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon Issac Langworthy by Grinnell in 1878, ten years before his death. He was a life member of both the American Home Missionary Society and the American Bible Society.

These papers include the personal creed of Issac P. Langworthy, letters received by I. P. Langworthy, accounts, sermons, notebooks and miscellaneous papers of Issac Langworthy, ca. 1829-89; letters and notebooks of his wife, Sarah Williams Langworthy, ca. 1831-94; and correspondence, an 1869 diary and papers of their son, Frank Langworthy, a physician, ca. 1869-84. Some miscellaneous certificates and other papers of family members or about family members Antoinette, James and Cyrus Langworthy comprise the balance of the Langworthy papers.
