Phoebe Jacobs Collection
[ca. 1960-1997]

Phoebe Jacobs was a publicist and public relations consultant for many prominent jazz artists. This collection consists of press clippings, photographs, correspondence, and business papers, dealing with the artists that she represented.

Processed by Karen M. Burke, 2001
Phoebe Jacobs was born June 21, 1918 in the Bronx, NY. She was an only child. Her father was a bootlegger and gambler. She grew up in a musical family; nightclub visits were a usual thing for her when she was growing up. She was introduced to many jazz musicians by a relative, Ralph Watkins, who owned the club the Basin St. East.

In the 1930’s Ralph Watkins helped her land a job working for Sy Oliver in a record company. She was willing to do anything to help the musicians, including picking up the dry cleaning. Gradually, by word of mouth, her reputation as a trustworthy and dependable person was passed on to other notable jazz musicians, such as Louis Armstrong and Benny Goodman.

This led to her active career as a publicist and public relations consultant. Through the years she has worked most closely with Louis & Lucille Armstrong, Ella Fitzgerald, Eubie Blake, Benny Goodman, Duke and Mercer Ellington, Sarah Vaughan, and Peggy Lee. She helped Louis Armstrong establish the Louis Armstrong Educational Foundation in 1969 and later became its vice president. After Louis’ death she traveled extensively, in the Soviet Union, with Lucille Armstrong to “broadcast reminiscenses of Louis.”

Jacobs is still active in the promotion of jazz. She was instrumental in providing the funding for the Louis Armstrong Jazz Oral History Project done at the Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture. The Louis Armstrong Educational Foundation is also responsible for funding the Music Therapy program at Beth Israel Hospital where Louis was a patient.
SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Phoebe Jacobs collection ranges from the early 1960’s to late 1990’s. It consists of clippings, photographs, business papers, correspondence, and programs from Phoebe Jacobs’ career as a publicist and jazz enthusiast.

Clippings, business papers, correspondence and programs are all located in Series I. Newspaper and magazine clippings make up about 1/3 of the collection. If there is only one folder for a person or organization it usually consists only of clippings. Programs may be by the performers themselves or concerning the performer, such as a tribute.

Much of the correspondence and business papers are written about, not by, the person or organization under which they are filed. It’s usually regarding business with Phoebe Jacobs. There are a few exceptions. The correspondence folders from Louis and Lucille Armstrong, and Ella Fitzgerald contain letters, greeting cards or post cards written by these artists either to Phoebe or, in Louis’ case, to friends and acquaintances other than Jacobs.

Photographs make up another 1/3 of the collection. Most of the photographs are publicity photos and there are some photocopies of photographs.
ARRANGEMENT

The Phoebe Jacobs Collection is arranged in five series. Folder numbering is continuous throughout the collection.

Series 1: Press material and Papers

This series is organized alphabetically by person or organization. If there is more than one folder per entry they are organized with the following sub-groups: correspondence, business papers, programs, clippings. Within each sub-group items are generally arranged in chronological order.

Series 2: Iconography

This series is organized alphabetically by person or organization. Full descriptions are provided if possible, including dates and place.

Series 3: Oversize Iconography

This series is arranged exactly as Series 2.

Series 4: Miscellaneous Visual Material

The organization follows that of Series I, alphabetical by last name or organization. It consists of posters, scrapbooks, and other items not considered photographs.

Series 5: Books

This series consists only of one book, signed by Eubie Blake.
