Biography

Ross Lee Finney (b Wells, MN, 23 Dec. 1906; d Carmel, CA, 4 Feb. 1997) was the son of intellectual parents; his father was a professor of sociology at the University of Minnesota. He began playing and composing music as a child, learning cello, piano and guitar. Finney retained an interest in the guitar and folk music throughout his life and folk song and melody were important elements in his music.

His first rigorous music courses were at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, where he studied with Donald Ferguson. He received a B.A. from Carleton College in 1927, after which he traveled to Paris to study composition with Nadia Boulanger. Finney’s other teachers were Edward Burlingame Hill (1928-29), Alban Berg (1931-32) and Roger Sessions (1935), with whom he enjoyed a long friendship.

Finney joined the faculty of Smith College in Massachusetts in 1929. He was awarded Guggenheim and Pulitzer fellowships in 1937, and from 1943 to 1945 he served in the Office of Strategic Services in France, where he sustained combat injuries and received a Purple Heart. He won a second Guggenheim Fellowship in 1947.

In 1949 he was appointed professor of music and composer-in-residence at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, where he remained until his 1972 retirement. There, Finney attracted many students who went on to become important composers, including George Crumb, Roger Reynolds and William Albright. Finney continued composing through the mid-1980s.

Finney’s music was tonal and melodic while sometimes employing serial technique, particularly after 1950; he lectured and wrote about the evolution of his style and his continuing interest in tonal resources. He was also interested in setting poetry to music. In the course of his career he composed for many musical settings, including soloists, chamber groups, choirs, wind ensembles, orchestras, opera and dance. His output was prolific and his music was performed often in his lifetime, both at the University of Michigan and by major orchestras and chamber groups around the country. He frequently served as a guest artist and lecturer at universities and symposia and wrote about composition and music education for both children and advanced students.

Scope and Content Note

The Ross Lee Finney Papers consist of 25 linear feet of material dating from 1916 to 1996. They document the composer’s life and career from several perspectives. The personal and professional correspondence between Finney and his colleagues, students and friends provides first-hand evidence of many of the projects and events in his life. The writings present a more formal look at Finney’s own thoughts on his compositions, teaching and music in general. The press clippings and concert programs are a detailed, year-by-year record of the public performances of Finney’s music and the publicity it attracted. The scores, many never published, date from throughout Finney’s life and provide views of his work-in-progress, and also shed light on his development as a young composer. Photographs, degrees, certificates and awards complement other elements of the collection.

Series Descriptions:

The Ross Lee Finney Papers are divided into 7 series and 11 sub-series.

Series I: Correspondence, 1916 – 1996 and undated

9 boxes

The correspondence is divided into two sub-series, Personal and Professional. The first contains correspondence between Finney and his family or close personal friends. The second contains correspondence between Finney and other composers, colleagues, publishers, music presenters, students, musicians and conductors, and deals with various aspects of his professional composing or teaching life. Before examining this series, the researcher should read the transcript of a tape Finney made in 1982 describing the letters he was donating to the library; it also serves as a short memoir. It is located in New York Public Library correspondence, Box 8, Folder 5. Although some letters from Finney are gathered in sub-levels of their own, many more are located throughout the series if they were part of an ongoing set of correspondence between him and another party. Oversized correspondence is in Series VII, Sub-series 2, Oversized Materials.

 Portions of the correspondence in this series were previously cataloged individually by the Music Division in *MNY- Amer. Photocopies of those catalog cards are attached at the end of this finding aid.

Sub-series 1: Personal, 1916 – 1996 and undated

3.5 boxes, 79 folders
Arrangement: Alphabetical

This sub-series contains correspondence, usually spanning many years, from close friends and colleagues of Finney and his wife Gretchen, and from Finney himself. The best-represented correspondents are Edith Borroff, Leslie and Anita Bassett, Wallace and Maxine Berry, Fred Goossenn and Eugene Kurtz. Other important correspondents with at least 5 letters in the collection include Nadia Boulanger, Aaron Copland, Luigi Dallapiccola, Roger Reynolds, Roger Sessions and Ralph Vaughan Williams. Correspondence from Finney is mainly to his family, including a set of letters written from France during his World War II service. In addition, Finney kept a separate file of 75th birthday letters from his friends and colleagues. By law, the file of medical correspondence is sealed from public view.

Sub-series 2: Professional, 1928 – 1995 and undated

5.5 boxes, 130 folders
Arrangement: Alphabetical

This sub-series has two categories, Individuals and Organizations. Important individuals represented include Theodore Antoniou, Milton Babbitt, William Bolcom and Joan Morris, John Cage, Henry Cowell, Erick Hawkins, H. Wiley Hitchcock, John Kirkpatrick, Billy Jim Layton, Nikolai Lopatnikoff, Archibald MacLeish, Yehudi Menuhin, Marjorie Nicholson, Walter Piston and Virgil Thomson. Correspondence from Finney includes letters of recommendation he wrote and several versions of his resume. In addition, there are two special topics within the first sub-level: letters written to Finney upon his retirement from the University of Michigan, and correspondence from students. Important organizations represented in the second sub-level include orchestras, universities and presenting organizations. Special topics within this sub-level are publishing, grant funding correspondence, correspondence with libraries and archives, and correspondence about particular trips and events in Finney’s professional life. Publishing correspondence includes letters and financial statements from Finney’s publisher, C.F. Peters, and correspondence with Finney’s copyist, Valentino Callegarin, which may shed light on the process of editing Finney’s music.

Series II: Writings, 1950 – 1984 and undated
2 boxes

The writings are a formal presentation of Finney’s thoughts on the process of composition, teaching, the evolution of his music and style, and music in general. They are divided into two sub-series, lectures and articles/other writings. The lectures were delivered to students and to other composers and teachers at meetings, symposia and commencements. The articles appeared in various publications. Both sub-series often contain differing or evolving versions of the lecture or article.

Sub-series 1: Lectures, 1950 – 1982 and undated
1.5 boxes, 41 folders
Arrangement: Alphabetical

This sub-series consists of Finney’s typed lectures and notes. Some are on typing paper, others on note cards. Topics are indicated in titles. Also included are two folders of handouts and slide displays Finney used during lectures.

Sub-series 2: Articles and Other Writings, 1958 – 1984 and undated
.5 boxes, 10 folders
Arrangement: Alphabetical

This sub-series consists of drafts of articles and program notes by Finney, one folder of interview transcripts, and a folder of poetry and writings by others that influenced Finney.

Series III: Press Clippings and Concert Programs, 1926 – 1993 and undated
6 boxes

The combined elements of this series create a detailed history of the public performances of Finney’s work, and the reaction to them by critics, from throughout his career. Many performances are documented in both sub-series. The press clippings also contain general articles about Finney not associated with a particular performance. The second sub-series, Concert Programs, encompasses meeting, symposium and lecture programs in addition to musical performances. Oversized clippings and programs are in Series VII, Sub-series 2, Oversized Materials.

Sub-series 1: Press Clippings, 1930 – 1993 and undated
1.5 boxes, 27 folders
Arrangement: Chronological

The press clippings begin while Finney was on the faculty at Smith and are thorough, documenting nearly every major performance of his work, especially after 1962. Many of the clippings are local to the places Finney taught (Massachusetts or Michigan), but there are also many articles and reviews from around the United States and Europe, particularly those places Finney visited for seminars or performances.

Sub-series 2: Concert Programs, 1926 – 1992 and undated
4.5 boxes, 52 folders
Arrangement: Chronological

The concert programs begin coverage in Finney’s Smith College years and continue long past his retirement. Many programs were sent to him by friends and presenters and sometimes contain hand-written notes on the performance by Finney or others. Starting in the early 1960s, Finney usually included a listing of each year’s performances in his files; they are placed at the start of each year’s programs in the folders.

Series IV: Degrees, Certificates and Awards, 1948 – 1980 and undated
1 box, 9 folders
Arrangement: Alphabetical

Includes honorary degrees from Carleton College and the New England Conservatory of Music, membership certificates for the National Institute of Arts and Letters and Phi Beta Kappa, and other honors. Two awards are located in Series VII, Sub-series 2, Oversized Materials.

Series V: Photographs, ca. 1920 – 1987 and undated
1 box, 6 folders
Arrangement: Topical

Photographs are divided into five categories: Ross Lee Finney, other composers, other musicians, trips and events, and unidentified. The photos of Finney are from throughout his life and show him with friends and colleagues, including a set of photos from a performance of the ballet Ahab (1985) by the Erick Hawkins Dance Company. Other composers includes Elliot Carter, Aaron Copland, Luigi Dallapicolla and Ralph Vaughan Williams. Other musicians includes Stephen Fisher (a composer who worked with Finney at his publisher, C.F. Peters) and the Stanley Quartet. Trips and events documents Finney’s 1964 visit to Greece and his 1965 International Fair trip.

Series VI: Scores 1922 – 1985 and undated
10 boxes

The scores document every phase of Finney’s career and include many unpublished works, particularly from his early days, but also from late in his career (for instance, the opera Weep Torn Land (1984)). There are also music analyses dating from both his student and teaching days.

Sub-Series 1: Early Works, 1922 – 1933 and undated
3 boxes, 43 folders
Arrangement: Alphabetical within two sets
One set of these compositions was found within a folder on which Finney noted that did not want them to be published or performed. The second set of scores all date from the same time period as the first, and it is presumed Finney would not have wanted them published or performed either.

Sub-Series 2: Mature Works, 1934 – 1985 and undated
6.5 boxes, 85 folders
Arrangement: Alphabetical

Works in this sub-series include, among many others, Chamber Music: 36 Songs to Words by James Joyce (1952), the opera Weep Torn Land (1984), (which includes many notes and sketches as a work-in-progress), the Erick Hawkins dance scores Ahab (1985), Heyoka (1981), and The Joshua Tree (1982), String Quartets No. 3 (1940) and No. 5 (1948), Concerto in E Major for Piano and Orchestra (1949) and Concerto in E Minor for Violin and Orchestra (1947). Many of these scores include parts as well.

Sub-Series 3: Exercises and Analyses, 1919 – 1968 and undated
.5 boxes, 3 folders
Arrangement: Chronological

There are three sets of exercise books and manuscript papers in this sub-series. The first dates from Finney’s adolescence and contains early counterpoint studies and compositions. The second contains analyses of Bach prepared for Nadia Boulanger in Paris. The third is Finney’s analyses of other composers presumably done for teaching purposes. See also Series VII, sub-series 1, oversized materials, Box 34, Folder 1.

Series VII: Oversized Materials, 1933 – 1984 and undated
5 boxes

Most of this series is scores, all of which date from Finney’s mature period. Many have parts found in Series VI. The second sub-series is the oversized portions of Series I, III and IV.

Sub-series 1: Scores, Exercises and Analyses, 1933 – 1984 and undated
4.5 boxes, 24 folders
Arrangement: Alphabetical

Many of these are full orchestral scores for pieces also found in Series VI. There is a piano and vocal score for one opera, First Picture (ca. 1936), not found elsewhere in the collection, and an orchestration for Weep Torn Land (1984) not found elsewhere. There is also one folder of twelve-tone row charts and exercises. The three largest scores in this sub-series are housed separately from the rest in Box 33. They are Concerto for Alto Saxophone and Orchestra of Wind Instruments (1974), Medley (Campfire on the Ice) (undated), and Spaces (1971).

Sub-series 2: Other Materials, 1944 – 1977
5 folders
Arrangement: By format.

This sub-series contains oversized Correspondence, Press Clippings, Concert Programs, and Degrees, Certificates and Awards.
