Biographical Note
Born in Cleveland, Ohio in 1902, actress Margaret Hamilton initially trained to be a kindergarten teacher, however she also studied voice and acting and made her first New York appearance in 1932 in Another Language. Her best known role was The Wicked Witch of the West in the 1939 movie, The Wizard of Oz. Hamilton went on to have a long career on the stage, in film and on television. She lived in New York City, married and divorced Paul Meserve, and had one son, Hamilton Meserve.

Scope and Content Note
The collection is primarily letters and cards written by Margaret Hamilton to Helen Fay (Mrs. Joseph Juneman). Though personal, they include information on Hamilton's theatrical work with mention of rehearsals and travel for various productions. There is also a file of letters by Hamilton's son, Hamilton Meserve, to "Aunt Helen." The ephemera of the collection consists of a few scraps and notes as well as six photographs (two are of her son as a boy), some programs for shows in which Hamilton appeared, and clippings of reviews.
