Description Ralph Thompson was an American book critic, editor and writer. He was born on November 11, 1904 in West Orange, New Jersey and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from Dartmouth College in 1925. Thompson entered journalism in 1932 as an associate editor of Current History which was published by the New York Times. From 1936 to 1942, he wrote the Book of the Times column which he ceased to write in order to serve in the army intelligence unit during the war. He became contributing editor for Time Magazine in 1946 and resumed his book criticism in 1948. Thompson went to England in 1949 as a Fulbright visiting professor at the University of Sheffield. Thompson authored the American Literary Annuals and Gift Books (1936), and translated Uhde: Five Primitive Masters (1948). He died of cancer on November 12, 1979 at the Mount Sinai Hospital in New York City.

The collection consists largely of letters to him by friends, authors, fellow journalists and the general public in response to his reviews. Correspondents include H.L. Mencken (1934-1948), Ezra Pound ("Anno XII"), Hamlin Garland (1939 & n.d.), Sean O'Casey (1948-1950), Ernest Hemingway (1949), James T. Farrell (1939-1949), Theodore Dreiser (1930), V.F. Calverton (1936-1939), A. Kerensky (1927), A.A. Knopf (1936-1948), F. La Guardia (1929), Carl Sandburg (1937) and William Saroyan (1934 & 1937). There are also unidentified letters (1932-1957) as well as original manuscripts by Harold J. Laski, G.L. Mallory and by Thompson himself. An electrostatic copy in typescript of Hemingway's A Moveable Feast is present with numerous pamphlets on the literary works of John Dos Passos, Sinclair Lewis, William Saroyan, John Steinbeck and others. There are a few photographs of a mountain climbing expedition to the top of Mount Everest.
