

The New York Public Library
Manuscripts and Archives Division

Guide to the

John Holmes correspondence

1803-1838

MssCol 1423

Summary

Creator: Holmes, John, 1773-1843

Title: John Holmes correspondence

Date: 1803-1838

Size: .3 linear feet (1 box)

Source: Purchase, C.F. Libbie & Co, 1917

Abstract: John Holmes (1773-1843), lawyer, was a United States Senator from York County, Maine. Collection consists of correspondence relating to family affairs, politics during Holmes's service as senator, his law practice, the cotton industry, Maine state boundaries, and other matters concerning York County, Maine. Includes transcripts of thirteen letters from Rufus McIntire giving accounts of the military campaign in northern New York, his views on the conduct of the war, politics, and related topics.

Alternative Form Available: Entire collection available on microfilm; New York Public Library

Preferred citation: John Holmes correspondence, Manuscripts and Archives Division, The New York Public Library

Creator History

John Holmes (1773-1843), lawyer, was a United States Senator from York County, Maine.

Scope and Content Note

Collection consists of correspondence relating to family affairs, politics during Holmes's service as senator, his law practice, the cotton industry, Maine state boundaries, and other matters concerning York County, Maine. Includes transcripts of thirteen letters from Rufus McIntire giving accounts of the military campaign in northern New York, his views on the conduct of the war, politics, and related topics.

Key Terms

Subjects

Cotton trade -- United States

Industries -- Maine

Practice of law -- Maine -- York County

Occupations

Lawyers

Legislators

Geographic Names

Maine -- Boundaries

Maine -- Politics and government -- 1775-1865

United States -- Politics and government -- 19th century

York County (Me.) -- Social life and customs

Names

Holmes, John, 1773-1843

McIntire, Rufus, 1784-1866

Holmes family

United States. Congress. Senate