

The New York Public Library Manuscripts and Archives Division

Guide to the

James Maury letters

1794-1805

MssCol 1917

Digitization was made possible by a lead gift from The Polonsky Foundation.

Compiled by Manuscripts and Archives Division, 1987

Summary

Creator: Maury, James, 1746-1840

Title: James Maury letters

Date: 1794-1805

Size: .13 linear feet (1 volume)

Source: Unknown

Abstract: James F. Maury (1746-1840), merchant at Fredericksburg, Virginia, before and during the American Revolution, engaged in the tobacco trade between Liverpool, England, and the U.S. after the Revolution. He served as the first American consul at Liverpool. The collection consists of letters written by Maury during his consular service in England, mainly to his brothers and sisters in Virginia, regarding family matters, business affairs and his life in England. Other subjects include the economic effects of the Anglo-French wars and the seizure of American vessels. Some of the letters are addressed to various statesmen and business associates.

Preferred citation: James Maury letters, Manuscripts and Archives Division, The New York Public Library

Processing note: Compiled by Manuscripts and Archives Division, 1987

Key Terms

Subjects

Anglo-French War, 1793-1802 -- Economic aspects
Diplomatic and consular service, American -- Great Britain
Napoleonic Wars, 1800-1815 -- Economic aspects
Privateering

Occupations

Diplomats
Merchants

Geographic Names

Liverpool (England) -- Social life and customs
United States -- Commerce

Names

Maury, James, 1746-1840
Morey family