

The New York Public Library
Billy Rose Theatre Division

Guide to the

29th Street Repertory Theater ephemera

1990-1999

8-MWEZ 30511

Summary

Creator: 29th Street Repertory Theater (New York, N.Y.)

Title: 29th Street Repertory Theater ephemera

Date: 1990-1999

Size: .25 linear feet (1 box)

Source: papers:

Abstract: The 29th Street Repertory Theater was founded in 1988 by Tim Corcoran, David Mogentale, and a core group of actors and directors including Leo Farley and Paula Ewin. The company's best known productions include Tracy Letts' KILLER JOE and Bill Nave's BIBLE BURLESQUE, which featured actor Edward Norton. The 29th Street Repertory Theater ephemera consists of clippings, programs, fliers, postcards, photographs and other documents pertaining to the 29th Street Repertory Theater. The clippings include reviews of individual productions, especially Tracy Letts' play KILLER JOE. There are also feature stories about actor/director Leo Farley, a founding member of the troupe, and playwright-in-residence Bill Nave.

Preferred citation: 29th Street Repertory Theater ephemera, Billy Rose Theatre Division, The New York Public Library

Creator History

The 29th Street Repertory Theater was founded in 1988 by Tim Corcoran, David Mogentale, and a core group of actors and directors including Leo Farley and Paula Ewin. The company's best known productions include Tracy Letts' KILLER JOE and Bill Nave's BIBLE BURLESQUE, which featured actor Edward Norton.

Scope and Content Note

The 29th Street Repertory Theater ephemera consists of clippings, programs, fliers, postcards, photographs and other documents pertaining to the 29th Street Repertory Theater. The clippings include reviews of individual productions, especially Tracy Letts' play KILLER JOE. There are also feature stories about actor/director Leo Farley, a founding member of the troupe, and playwright-in-residence Bill Nave.

Key Terms

Genre/Physical Characteristic

Clippings

Fliers

Photographs

Programs

Subjects

Theater -- New York (State) -- New York

Names

29th Street Repertory Theater (New York, N.Y.)

Corcoran, Tim

Ewin, Paula

Farley, Leo

Letts, Tracy, 1965-

Mogentale, David

Nave, Bill